10. [ ] Called David Russell in the office of Senator Dewey F. Bartlett (R., Okla.) and told him of the arrangements for Senator Bartlett's visit to the Agency for breakfast tomorrow. I told him we planned to brief the Senator on the functions of the Agency and its relationships to the executive branch and to the Congress, and to give him a briefing on ~~Soviet strategic weapons~~. Russell asked about accompanying the Senator and I politely indicated that the sensitivity of the material was of such a nature as to preclude this. He did not press the issue further.
